

Business Models for Mobile Platforms (BMMP10)

held in conjunction with

14 October 2010, Berlin, Germany

Abstracts Deadline Extended to 29 May

Prospective authors now have until 29 May to submit extended abstracts for BMMP 10. Registration and paper submission are through the EDAS (<http://edas.info/doc/authors.html>) manuscript registration and submission system. Extended abstracts should be submitted electronically through EDAS at <http://edas.info/N8948>. Extended abstracts should be between 1000 and 1500 words long. All extended abstracts will be peer-reviewed.

The 2nd International Workshop on Business Models for Mobile Platforms will take place on 14 October in conjunction with the ICIN 2010 conference in Berlin. The BMMP10 workshop proceedings will be published (electronically) within the ICIN 2010 conference proceedings and individual papers will be indexed within the IEEE Xplore digital library.

The workshop will focus on the causes and effects of the current explosion of platforms in the mobile ICT industry and explore the changing business models and industry architectures that result from the introduction of mobile platforms.

The workshop is multidisciplinary and specifically encourages research papers on the following topics:

- Platform theories, network effects and multi-sided mobile platforms
- Business strategies related to mobile platforms
- New revenue (sharing) models around mobile platforms
- Business models for mobile app stores and mobile search
- Mobile media platforms
- Mobile service platforms for Smart Cities
- Platform models for the Internet of Things
- Standardisation strategies regarding mobile platforms
- Regulatory implications of mobile platforms
